WASHINGTON CITY:

SATURDAY APRIL 22, 1565. PRESIDENT JOHNSON.

President Johnson changed his quarters last night from the Kirkwood House to the residence of Hon. Samuel Hooper, of Massachusetts, 334 H street, (Mr. Hooper being absent on the escort of the body of Mr. Lincoln,) where he will remain until Mrs. Lincoln is sufficiently recovered to vacate the White

Mrs. Lincoln is more composed and is deliberating whether, on returning to Illinois, to take up her residence at Springfield or Chicago. She is still much too ill to leave her room.

HEROLD.

On Wednesday afternoon, of last week, David Herold (accomplice of Booth) met a young man of this city, of his acquaintance, at the steps of the Metropolitan Hotel, and asked him if he had seen Booth. The party questioned inquired what Booth, and Herold answered "Wilkes Booth." Herold .was answeled in the negative, and the inquiry was made of him what he wanted of Booth, to which he made an evasive answer, saying that Booth had promised to introduce him to a young lady. This incident, though not mate. rial, serves to add to the array of facts showing his close intimacy with Booth.

SENATOR SUMNER TO HAVE BEEN ASSASSINATED.

We hear that Senator Sumner has lately been the recipient of several letters, some threatening and some warning, showing a purpose to assassinate him. They received little attention until the tragedy of Friday night last served to give them importance. At the request of the friende of Senator S., sentinels have been placed at his door by direction of Gen. Augur.

.IMor General Augur has issued the following important order in relation to paroled prisoners of war at large in this District: HEADQUARTERS DEPARTMENT OF WASH-INGTON, 22d Army Corps, April 20th, 1865.— General Orders, No. 54.—All paroled prisoners of war at large in the District of Columbia will report in person, without delay, to Colonel T. Ingraham, Provost Marshal General Defenses North of the Potomac, at his office on 14th street in this city. All such prisoners elsewhere in the Department will report to the nearest Provost Marshal. The residence of each prisoner, with his name and rank, will be recorded, and none will be allowed to wear the uniform of the rebel army. Each person will be directed to report in person at the office which his name is registered once in every ten days, and Provost Marshals will report promptly to these headquarters all failures to comply with this order. By command of Major General Augur. A. E. KING, Ass't Adj't General.

MR, LINCOLN'S OPINION OF JOHNSON.

On the day before the meeting of the Baltimore Convention, Marcus L. Ward, of New Jersey, a delegate to that body and subsequently a most efficient member of the Republican National Executive Committee, waited upon Mr. Lincoln and solicited an expression of his preference as to the Vice-Presidential candidate to be nominated by that Convention. The President, while declaring that he could not be expected to avow any distinct preference for any of the gentlemen named in that connection, referred frankly to the merits of each, including Messrs. Dickinson and Hamlin, and dwelt especially upon the claims of Andrew Johnson, whom he characterized as eminently a man for the times—capable, honest, and of inflexible loyalty and indomitable will, whose selection for Vice-President would afford him (Mr. Lincoln) supreme satisfaction. Mr. Ward left the President with the strong conviction that that no man in the country possessed his esteem and confidence more entirely than Mr. At a subsequent interview, on the 6th of

M arch, the President reiterated all he had previously said in Mr Johnson's praise, remarking that the country owed him a debt of gratitude for his unshrinking sacrifice and heroic labors in its behalf, which could never be paid. He still felt that he had in the new Vice-President one whose aid would be of inestimable value in the work before him. No man, he said, had a right to judge Andrew Johnson in any respect who had not suffered as much and done as much as he had for the nation's

JEFF DAVIS AT AUGUSTA.

HE IS ON THE RUN TO THE MISSIS-SIPPI.

We are indebted to Captain Young and Mr.

Smith, of the mail boat James T. Brady, for copies of the Richmond Whig of yesterday, from which we gleah the following items of "THE SURRENDER OF JOHNS ON'S ARMY .-

Advices from Newbern, N. C., on the 13th inst., state that Gen. Sherman had rece, ved a flag of truce from Gen. Johnston, asking 10." terms of surrender. Gen. Sherman replied that he should tender him the same terms as were granted by Gen. Grant to Gen. Lee's army. There seems to be no reason to doubt that Johnston has surrendered, the event taking place about the 13th or 14th inst., in the neighborhood of Smithfield, before which place, at last accounts, Gen. Sherman was lying.— Smithfield is about midway between Raleigh and Goldsboro. Before the receipt of this news the general impression here was that Johnston had retreated in the direction of Charlotte, N. C., and had perhaps reached that point. It would now seem that he has made no movement since the surrender, wisely determining, perhaps, to regulate his efforts according to the result of military operations in Virginia. He is said to have been strongly intrenched at Smithfield.

"For some days it has been reported here that the so-called Confederate Government, consisting of Jeff Davis and a handful of his office-holders, had reached Augusta and made a show to establish itself there, preparatory to a flight to the Trans Mississippi." General Lee and staff-or rather those who accompanied him to Richmond-were yesterday photographed in a group by Mr. Brady, of New York. Six different sittings were then taken of General Lee, each in a different posture, and all were pronounced admirable pic-

"The first auction sale since the occupation of Richmond by the Federal forces was held yesterday at the auction house of E. B. Cook, Main street. The auctioneer came down very gracefully out of the Communication atmosphere of fifty and one hundred dollar bids, and took very naturally to bids of fifty cents and one dollar in the United States correspy. The at-tendance was not large, neither was the bidding spirited, but a good many articles of fur-niture were sold. A stained wardrobe, 'very superior and nice,' so the auctioneer said, brought eleven dollars—Confederate estimate two hundred and fifty dollars. A mahogany high-post bedstead, that would have brought five hundred dollars before the evacuation, went off not very readily at eleven dollars, and other necessary articles of housekeeping at preportionately small figures when compared with icrmer prices. "We obse, we that Messrs. John H. Gentry & Brandt, citizens, are about laying the foundations of an extensive building on the corner of Main and Sth streets, opposite the Spotswood Hotel. Messrs. Purcell, Ladd & Co., druggists, at the corner of Main and Governor sts., are also clearing away the ruins of their former establishment, preparatory to erecting another. Orbers are moving in the enterprise of rebuilding, and we trust the summer air will be resonant with the music of hammer and trowel, all over the burnt desert, now more dreary than the ruins of Herculaneum.

"THE ANTI-SECESSIONISTS .- The "ordinance of secession" was adopted by the Virginia Convention on the 17th of April, 1861, by a vote of yeas 58, nays 55. Among those who voted in the negative were John Janney, of Loudoun, the venerable President of the Convention; John B. Baldwin, of Augusta, late representative in the "Confederate Congress" from the "Tenth Legion District:" George W. Brent, formerly Bragg's Adjutant General; W. H. B. Custis, of Accomac; Wm. H. Dulany, of Fairfax; Jubal A. Early, formerly "Com-mander of the Department of the Valley;" J. G. Holladay, of Portsmouth; Samuel McD. Moore, of Rockbridge; Samuel Price, of Greenbrier, "Lieutenant-Governor of Virginia;" Hon. Alex. H. H. Stuart, of Augusta; Hon. George W. Summers, of Kanawha, and Hon. Wm. C. Wickham, of Hanover.

IMPORTANT RESOLUTIONS.

At a meeting of the Regular Tammany Hall Bemocratic Ward Committee of the Twenty-first Ward, held at their rooms in Third av., on Tuesday evening, April 18, 1865, Charles W. Baker, esq., Chairmain, presiding.

On motion, a Committee assessment of the transfer of the On motion, a Committee was appointed, consist-ing of 13 gentlemen, to draft and report resolu-tions in regard to the death of President Lin-

The Committee having retired subsequently the Hon. D. W. Clarke, Chairman, reported the fol-lowing preamble and resolutions, which were unanimously adopted. Whereas, Abraham Lincoln, the President of the United States of America, in the zenith of his fame, has been cruelly, wantonly and dastardly murdered and murdered; and Whereas, The Christian and civilized world has been shocked at the base and cowardly act, which has sent to "the bosom of his Father and his God" the spirit of him who in the love and affections of the spirit of him who in the love and affections of his country was equalled only by the Father of his Country, and

Wiceeas, This organization, representing the true, the untrammeled and only real Democracy of the Twenty first Ward in the City of New York, now as in the past, having never faitered in the abiding faith that the Republic would survive the assaults of foes and traitors wherever they exist, no matter how "low their rank or high their stations," having at all times, "despite of lamentations here or elsewhere," sustained the administration of the lamented Lincoln in his efforts to put down this unholy Rebellion, deem it their duty to express truly, faily and democratically, their views in regard to the melancholy event which has placed a "Nation in mourning and a world in tears," and in regard to their future action; Therefore be it

Resolved, That the Democracy of the Twenty-first Ward, while it bows in due submission to the my sterious dispensation which affects us and the whole nation, must express the anguish and grief which fill our hearts, that the death of Abraham Lincoln is a calamity not to this nation alone, but to every country and clime where Christianity and civilization have extended their humane and enlightening benefits.

Resolved, That as by the last acts of his life, the civilization have extended their humane and en-lightening benefits.

Resolved, That as by the last acts of his life, the President proved that kindness, charity, and a spirit of conciliation towards the enemies of the Republic animated him and dictated his policy, so we believe that we best honor his memory by em-ulating his spirit and example, and centinuing to labor for the restoration of peace and harmony in the land the land.

Resolved. That we spurn with contempt the unmanly, the unpatriotic and meaningless action and resolutions adopted by the miscalled Democratic General Committee of Tammany Hall, on the occasion of the assassination of President Lincoln; and we call upon all true Democrats who sustain their country "always when she is right, but, right or wrong, their country," to repudiate the action of Tammany Hall on the occasion referred to, and to show to the country at large that the so-called Tammany organization is no exponent of the views of the Democratic masses, and is mere; the "degenerate machine" of a few unprincipled and corrupt office-holders, office-seekers and demagogues.

merei, the degenerate machine of a few unprincipled and corrupt office-holders, office-seekers and demagogues.

Resolved, That we will sustain, with every effort in our power, the successor of the late lamented President; we will stay up, with all our might, his hands in performing the arduous duties imposed upon him. We know Andrew Johnson to be a devoted lover of his whole country; we believe him to be a true Democrat of the Jackson school—honest faithful, and competent. No man has suffered more than he, from the commencement of the Rebellion to this present time. The nearest and dearest to him have been the victims of the hostility of the Rebellion to free government—wife and children, house and home, have all been sacrificed to the demon of Rebellion. He has stood like "Ajax, defying the lightning and the storm," when quailed the timid and stood still the brave," he has never faltered nor fallen back; he has pursued the "even tenor of his way," and has battled manfully and successfully for the integrity of the Republic. To such a man, now the constitutional President of the United States of America, we will accord our hearty, our generous and undivided support.

President of the United States of America, we will accord our hearty, our generous and undivided support.

Resolved. That, having exhibited to the Kings. Imperors and potentates of the Old World that this Republic can live and sustain itself despite their machinations to ruin and destroy it, we call upon President Johnson, at the earliest possible opportunity, to demand of England due reparation for the injuries she has indicted upon our shipping, by permitting pirates to be fitted out in her ports to prey upon and destrey our merchantmen and our commerce; and, in case of her resusal to do fustice to this long insulted but now triumphant nation, we ask him and his Administration, in the name of justice, in the name of unnumbered and unforgiven wrongs of our ewn; in the name of the oppressed and down-trodden masses in Ireland, to let her know that—

The gates of mercy—Lub hashut up.

And the fleshed soldier, rough and had a shart.

In liberty of bloody hand shall range

With semulence wide as hell!"

Resolved. That a committee, consisting of the following-named gentlemen, viz Col. George W. McLean, the Hon. John Kelly, the Hon. R. B. Cennolly, the Hon. James Brooks, James Murphy, Esq. Alderman James O'Brien, Col. Stephen B. Pinckney, P. McElroy, Esq., John Kerr, Esq., John Pettigrew. Esq., the Hon. Dan'l W. Clark, Daniel C. Birdsa'l, Esq., Chas. A. Secor, Esq., be elected for the purpose of proceeding to Washington this evening to represent this committee in the obsequies of our deceased and lamented President.

Resolved. That the Committee on Resolutions accord our hearty, our generous and undivided

President.

Resolved. That the Committee on Resolutions cause the foregoing proceedings to be published.

FROM THE ARMY OF THE POTOMAC. Johnston's Army Demoralized.

Information from the Army of the Potomac to the 20th instant, states that an officer had arrived there from Goldsboro, who reported that .Johnston's army was completely demoralized and negotiations were going on for its In consequence of this news no dispositions of this army have been made. The 9th corps are relieved from guarding the Southside Railroad, and are ordered to Washington. Their place is to be taken by the 5th corps. The 6th and 2d corps have, as yet, received no orders, but are hourly expecting to be sent to some prominent post. Wednesday was observed as a holiday in the army. All work was suspended, it being the day of the funeral of our lamented President.

PRESIDENT JOHNSON'S RECEPTIONS. This morning a delegation of the Georgetown Union League, headed by Col. Jno. A. Magruder, President, waited upon President Johnson at his room in the Treasury Building, and presented him with a set of resolutions expressive of their confidence in him, and pledging the league to support him in his administration. Col. Magruder in a brief speech presented the resolutions, to which President Johnson fittingly responded.

A delegation of the sons of Vermont, headed by Hon. S. B. Colby, numbering about 100, waited upon the President, when Mr. Colby addressed him, referring to the loyalty and devotion of his State to the Union, and assured him that whatever clouds might arise and whatever storms threaten the peace of the Union he might look with confidence to Vermont, whose sons have ever stood by the late President in his efforts to maintain the integrity of the Union, and will extend their co-operation to him. In conclusion, he stated that the prayers and wishes of Vermont's sons were for his personal safety and for the peace and success of his administration in maintain.

The President replied that it was peculiarly gratifying to receive these assurances from all quarters, called upon suddenly as he was to assume the responsibilities of the office, and he felt encouraged by this visit. His past life must be taken as an indication of what his future course will be. The time had arrived when the American people should known the nature of crime, and that treason was a crime, if they did not know already. Since the days of Aaron Burr they had lost sight of treason. The question now is who have levied war against the United States, and who have aided the enemies of the rebellion. He had no spirit of revenge or anger to indulge. We should keep justice, stern and in-flexible, before us, laying aside all prejudices. He mourned with the country that the individual who a short time since held the highest office in the gift of the people, who was on the highest pinnacle of fame, had been struck down as a star from its sphere. It his murderer could be arrested, he asked is there any one who would say pardon him? If you see the traitors with hand uplifted to take away the life of the nation, do you say pardon them? He would, if required to summon ajury to try them go to the battle-field and summon those who had fallen in the defence of the Union: those who had lost their limbs, and the widows and orphans made by this cruel war. Mercy to one may be cruelty and death to thousands. He would say to the wealthy traitor you must pay the penalty of your treason, and on the other side, to the misguided thousands who have been deluded and decieved, some of whom

From a private letter from Capetown, coast of Africa, received yesterday, we learn that the pirate Tuscaloosa has been lying at that port since last fall, having been seized by the colonial authorities at the instance of the U.S. Consul. Graham.

The Tuscaloosa was formerly the bark Conrad, which was captured by the Alabama in 1863, and converted into a tender by placing on board about 30 men and four 12-pound hewitzers, and put under the command of one the lieutenants of the Alabama. The Tuscaloosa put into Cape Town for supplies. ACTING PROVOST MARSHAL.

RETURNED WASHINGTONIANS .- The follow ing Washingtonians, all of whom went South at the breaking out of the rebellion, have returned to this city within the past few days as paroled prisoners of war:-D. S. Boyle, Assistant Surgeon in the rebel army; Albert G. Holland, Baltimore Battery; Grafton Tyler, Adjutant of Braxton's artillery; J. W. Fillins, 1st Md. battery; J. H. Bowly, telegraph corps; Robert Broome, E. T. Castello, 2d Va; R. E. Cleary, 1st Md.; T. H. McCormick, 1st Md.: Beorge W. Guy, 2d Md. artillery: W. P. Young, Surgeon 4th Ga; and John Freed, 4th A number of Alexandrians have also returned, among whom are Surgeon W Gregory; Captain C. W. Green, A. Q. M. Captain John R. Ludlow, 6th Va ; Privates C. Wise, T. L. Chase, J. E. Brenner, and John H. Inzer, of the 17th Virginia. George A. Gordon, of the 6th Virginia cav. alry, has also returned to his home in George.

MARSHAL LAMON'S ASSISTANTS .- Mr. Editor: The list of marshals selected by General Joseph H. Bradley, attorney-at-law, &c., and Deputy Marshal Phillips, to assist Marshal Lamon at the late funeral ceremonies of our beloved and lamented President, contained the names of about one hundred and sixty citizens, and I boldly say that the selection of such a list of persons to officiate on that most solemn occasion was the greatest outrage upon the just sense of propriety of the leyal people of this District that has been perpetrated since the commencement of this infernal slaveholding rebellion. Upon that list the names of but fourteen friends of Mr. Lincoln can be found, and three-fourths of the remainder have been his bitter enemies and revilers. But, say Messrs. Bradley and Phillips, the friends of Mr. Lincoln, could have had their names placed upon that list had they requested that favor of them. The enemies of Mr. Lincoln could have their names placed upon the list of marshals at his funeral without being consulted, but his friends must solicit as a special favor that precious favor. The plea has also been made that Messrs. B.

and P. were ignorant of the political antecedents and proclivities of the persons selected by them for marshals. No persons in this city know better than they do the politics of the class of citizens from which they made up their list, and they cannot wipe out the disgrace that properly attaches to that act, by any plea of accident or ignorance. There are at least four influential citizens occupying positions in the City Hall who are Republicans, and were devoted friends of Mr Lincoln and his policy, and not one of those gentlemen were consulted, and their names were not placed upon Messrs. Bradley and Phillips' list of Marshals. AN ORIGINAL FRIEND OF ABRAHAM LINCOLN
